About the Report

The Office of Public Insurance Counsel (OPIC) is an independent state agency that advocates on behalf of insurance consumers as a class in the state of Texas. In 1997 the 75th Texas Legislature directed OPIC to issue annual reports comparing HMOs in the state of Texas.

Comparing Texas HMOs 2012 reflects the experience of Texans enrolled in Health Maintenance Organizations (HMOs) during 2011. Section One of the report offers background information on the report, information on consumer rights, and information on types of health plans. Section Two provides the results of the Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems, Version 4.0H (CAHPS[®] 4.0H), by statewide aggregate for two measures, and by service area for the remaining measures. Section Three contains information on HMO complaints, appeals, and independent review organizations. Section Four provides HMO market share data and financial information, HMO customer service contact information, additional sources of health care information, and information on the survey.

About the Survey

The CAHPS[®] 4.0H survey was performed by independent vendors certified by the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA), a private, non-profit organization.

The survey comprises the consumer satisfaction measure for the Healthcare Effectiveness Data and Information Set (HEDIS[®]). Texas law requires HMOs to submit HEDIS[®] measures—including consumer satisfaction data—on an annual basis.

The survey data was compiled from answers from 4,923 adults enrolled in commercial health plans across the state of Texas. The surveyors mailed questionnaires to over 23,000 plan members eligible to participate and followed up by telephone with those who did not respond. Participants answered questions about their satisfaction with the health care services they received in the previous twelve months.

The report does not include data for Medicare, Medicaid, or Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) plans. Pages 104-106 contain contact information for these plans.

About HMOs

Health Maintenance Organizations (HMOs) are managed care plans that provide health care services to members through networks of doctors, hospitals, and other health care providers. An HMO member must select a primary care physician who oversees medical care and provides referrals to specialists. HMOs require members to pay a set copayment for covered services within the network. The table on page 5 provides more information on HMOs and compares HMOs to other types of health plans.

How to Use the Report

Choosing an HMO can feel overwhelming. When you select an HMO, you are not only choosing health plan benefits, but also the network of doctors, hospitals, and other providers who deliver your care as well as the administrators who review and approve recommended care. You can obtain information on service area, benefits, cost, and available providers directly from the HMOs. However, consumer satisfaction information can be difficult to find. Comparing Texas HMOs 2012 provides this information for you.

Choosing an HMO

When you choose an HMO, you will want to make an apples-to-apples comparison of the plans. This section lists a few points of comparison to consider. This is not an exhaustive list, but it is intended to help you break down a complicated decision into smaller pieces. You may use the table below to take notes on the HMOs you consider.

- Service Area Availability
HMOs cover specific service areas. Review the HMOs' membership information to find one with a service area close to where you live or work.
- Benefits
Individuals utilize different services based on medical conditions, age, and family needs. Review HMO benefit information for coverage of medications or services that you use. You may need to contact the plans to get all your questions answered.

- Affordability
Your overall health care costs will include your premiums as well as other out-of-pocket costs. To compare affordability, estimate your annual health care needs and calculate the total out-of-pocket cost you would pay with each HMO.
- Provider Availability
Some consumers find it important to receive care from specific doctors or hospitals. Review provider directories for information on in-network providers.
- Consumer Satisfaction
The survey data in this report provide an aggregate look at consumer satisfaction for members currently enrolled in HMOs. Review the information in this report to find out how current plan enrollees rate the plan quality of the HMOs you are considering.

| HMO | Service Area Availability | Benefits | Affordability | Provider Availability | Consumer Satisfaction |
|-----|---------------------------|----------|---------------|-----------------------|-----------------------|

Your Rights as a Consumer

An HMO must provide requested information regarding the terms and conditions of the plan including:

- covered services
- exclusions and limitations
- prior authorization requirements
- continuity of treatment
- approved prescription drugs
- complaint resolution
- the HMO's toll-free telephone number

You have the right to certain consumer protections under federal and state law.

Under Federal Law:

- Health plans must provide a required set of preventive services to enrollees, waiving applicable in-network deductibles, copays, and coinsurance.
- Health plans may not require referrals for in-network pediatric and OB-GYN care.
- Health plans may not require prior approval for emergency care.
- Health plans that offer dependent coverage must allow adult children who lack access to employer-sponsored coverage the option of remaining on a parent's plan up to age 26.
- Health plans may not deny coverage or apply pre-existing condition exclusions to coverage for children under age 19.
- Health plans may not impose lifetime dollar limits.
- Health plans may not rescind health insurance coverage.
- Consumers have a right to internal and external appeals of claim and coverage denials.

Under Texas State Law:

- Health plans must provide access to specialist care and prescription drugs.
- Health plans must provide access to regular physical examinations.
- Health plans must provide emergency care, including care at out-of-network hospitals.
- Health plans must provide continuity of care when your doctor leaves the network.
- Health plans must provide a procedure for complaints, appeals, and independent review of adverse determinations.
- Health plans may not provide financial rewards to doctors for withholding necessary care.
- Health plans must allow members to change primary care physicians at least four times per year.
- Health plans may not prohibit doctors from discussing treatment options with patients.
- Health plans must provide covered health care services within a certain distance of a consumer's home.
- Consumers have the right to request mediation for certain out-of-network claims.
- Consumers may take legal action against a non-ERISA HMO plan for harm caused by its treatment decisions.
- Providers may not bill patients for covered services if the HMO fails to pay.
- Hospitals and doctors must provide an itemized statement of billed services and/or an estimate of charges upon request.

The Texas Department of Insurance publishes a brochure describing your rights entitled "Health Maintenance Organizations." You may access this document on TDI's website at <http://www.tdi.texas.gov/pubs/consumer/cb069.html> or by calling 1-800-252-3439 to request a copy.

Types of Health Plans

| | HMO Health Maintenance Organization | PPO Preferred Provider Organization | EPO Exclusive Provider Organization | HMO/POS Health Maintenance Organization with Point-of-Service Option | Traditional Insurance Fee-for-Service |
|--|---|---|---|---|---|
| Type of Network | Closed You must use in-network doctors, hospitals, and specialists. | Open You may use in-network doctors, hospitals, and specialists or go outside the network. | Closed You must use in-network doctors, hospitals, and specialists. | Open You may use in-network doctors, hospitals, and specialists or go outside the network. | No Network You may use any doctor, hospital, or specialist you choose. |
| Limits on your choice of doctors | HMO plans typically require you to choose a primary care physician (PCP) from the HMO's network. With some exceptions, you must obtain a referral from your PCP before seeing other doctors in the network. | Many PPOs permit you to see any doctor in the network without a referral. However, some PPOs do require you to choose a PCP and obtain a referral before seeing other doctors in the PPO's network. Verify referral requirements with the PPO before making an appointment. | EPOs typically permit you to see any network provider without a referral. Verify referral requirements with the EPO before making an appointment. | An HMO/POS will typically require you to choose a PCP and obtain a referral from that doctor before making an appointment with other doctors in the network. | No limitations. |
| Incentives to use network doctors | Except in an emergency, an HMO will not cover services provided by out-of-network providers. | The PPO will typically reimburse a higher percentage of the cost of your health care services if you use in-network providers. | Except in limited circumstances (such as an emergency), an EPO will not cover services provided by out-of-network providers. | An HMO/POS will typically reimburse a higher percentage of the cost of your health care services if you use in-network providers. | Not applicable. |
| Payment for services | When you access the HMO network, you will pay designated copays for covered services. Typically, you will not pay a deductible or coinsurance. An in-network provider cannot bill you for any remaining balance after you meet your copay. | When you access the PPO network, you typically pay a copay for covered services. You may also pay a percentage of the overall cost of the service. When you use an out-of-network provider, you will be responsible for your deductible, coinsurance, and any remaining balance charged by the health care provider. | When you access the EPO network, you may pay copays, coinsurance, or deductibles for covered services. When you use an out-of-network provider, you will typically pay the entire cost of the service. | When you access the HMO network, you will pay designated copays. When you use an out-of-network provider, you will be responsible for your deductible, coinsurance, and any remaining balance charged by the health care provider. | Fee-for-Service insurance plans partially pay for the medical services you receive. You will be responsible for coinsurance plus any remaining balance charged by the health care provider. |

Section 3: Complaints Against HMOs and Appeals

HMO Complaint Data

The Texas Department of Insurance (TDI) handles complaints against HMOs regarding the quality and availability of medical care as well as the HMO's administrative procedures (claims, billing, enrollment, appeals, etc.). A high frequency of justified complaints against an HMO can indicate a high consumer or provider dissatisfaction with the company.

This section reports data as maintained by TDI. In 2012, TDI changed the complaint data it publishes to only include complaints TDI deems are justified. In the past, other types of complaints were included in the reported data. TDI defines a complaint as justified "if there is an apparent violation of a policy provision, contract provision, rule, or statute, or there is a valid concern that a prudent layperson would regard as a practice or service that is below customary business or medical practice." OPIC does not audit or independently verify the accuracy of the complaint, TDI's determination of complaints as "justified" or not, or the enrollment data reported in this section.

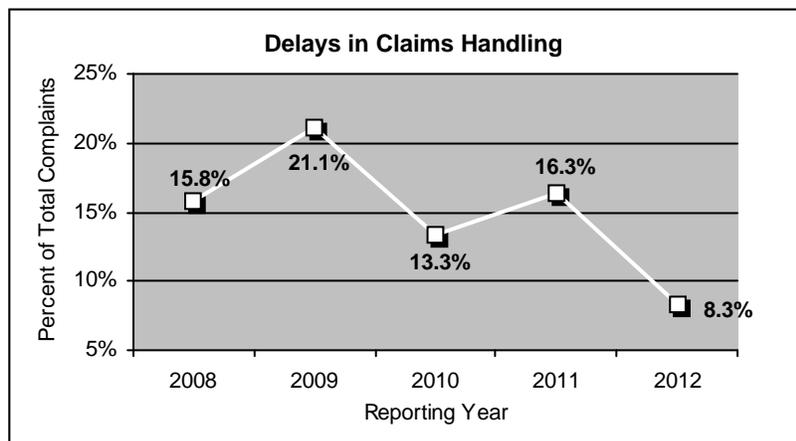

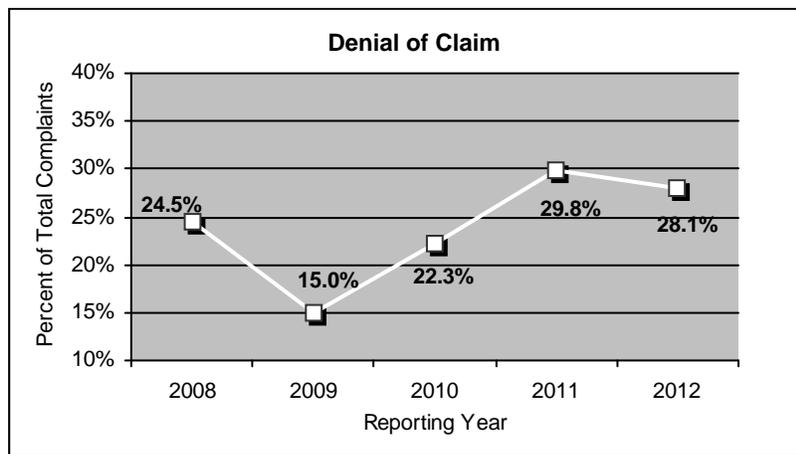

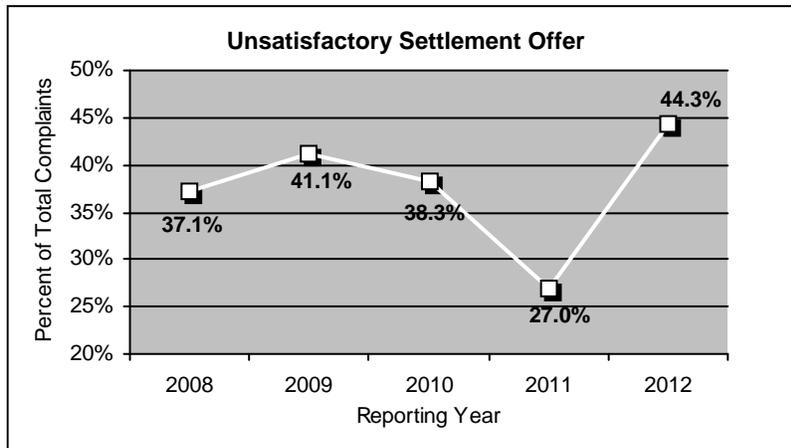

For more information on TDI's complaint process, contact the Consumer Help Line at (800) 252-3439 or visit www.tdi.texas.gov/consumer/complfrm.html. You may direct complaints against health care providers to the appropriate licensing agency.

Most Common Reasons for Complaint

Complaint Trends: Basic Service HMOs

The chart below illustrates the rate of justified complaints (number of justified complaints per 10,000 enrollees) for all basic service HMOs. The justified complaint rate for consumers/patients has remained relatively consistent since 2008. The rate of justified complaints filed by providers has decreased steadily since 2008. The overall rate of justified complaints (consumers/patients and providers combined) has also decreased steadily since 2008.

Source Data: Texas Department of Insurance (TDI) Internet Complaints Information Systems (ICIS) complaint data was downloaded from the TDI's website for use in this report. Complaints were counted as follows: (a) Subject of Complaint = Home Maintenance Organization, (b) Line of Coverage = Group A&H and using a combination of unique complaint ID, reason for complaint and correspondent. The chart excludes additional records with the same ID and reason for complaint as those already counted.

Denials, Appeals, and Independent Review Organizations

Your HMO will review your coverage for a treatment, service, or prescription either before or after your claim is filed. If your health plan refuses to pay for medically necessary services, treatments, or medications, you have the right to appeal the decision through the HMO's internal appeals process. Contact your HMO or your employer for details on the appeals process.

If you have exhausted your internal appeal rights, you may have the right to have the decision reviewed by an independent review organization (IRO). Your health plan must provide an independent review form if it denies payment based on a decision that the treatment is unnecessary, inappropriate, experimental, or investigational. Your health plan must pay for the review and must comply with the IRO's decision.

The IRO must issue a decision within twenty days for non-emergency treatment and within eight days for emergency treatment.

The law does not require an HMO to provide an IRO for services it does not cover. It also does not require certain types of plans—Medicare, Medicaid, and ERISA plans, for example—to participate in the IRO process.

For more information on IROs, contact TDI's Health and Workers' Compensation Network Certification and Quality Assurance Office at 1-866-554-4926.

Section 4: Additional Information

About the Survey

Who performed the survey?

Independent survey vendors certified by the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) performed the CAHPS[®] 4.0H survey. NCQA is a not-for-profit organization committed to assessing, reporting on, and improving the quality of health care.

State law requires Texas HMOs to submit consumer satisfaction data to the Department of State Health Services.

Who was surveyed?

The CAHPS[®] 4.0H survey was sent to over 23,000 adult plan members across the state of Texas. Overall, 4,923 enrollees (23% of those who received the survey) responded: 3,144 completed the survey by mail, 1,677 by phone, and 102 online. Only members who were enrolled continuously in an HMO from January 1, 2011 to December 31, 2011 were eligible to complete the survey. Members surveyed answered only questions pertaining to health care services they received during the survey period. Each survey result section contains the consumer response rate by plan.

How was the survey performed?

The survey vendors administered the survey primarily by mail with a telephone follow-up of those who did not respond to the mailed questionnaire. The survey was voluntary and confidential.

The survey asked HMO members questions about their experiences with their health plans and medical care such as:

- Were your claims handled quickly and correctly?
- Were you able to get the care you needed?
- Could you get appointments quickly?
- Could you get the information you needed from your health plan?
